Trager Contemporary, a Charleston-based fine art gallery founded in 2017, has moved from its former temporary space at 290 King Street to a permanent home at 577 King Street.

To commemorate the move up the street, Trager Contemporary is hosting a grand opening celebration on Saturday, May 12. The afternoon will feature talks and demonstrations by artists Cory McBee, Bri Catarino and Jane Braddock along with gallerist Kelly Trager, starting at 2 p.m. From 6-10 p.m., One Kool Blow will entertain, and food and drinks will be available on-site.

The event is free and open to the public. For talk and demo schedules, visit tragercontemporary.com/exhibitions.php. Contact jt@tragercontemporary.com for information or to RSVP.

The gallery is now officially open on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Thursdays through Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. It is closed on Mondays.

Trager's goal from the start has been to build a program of abstract contemporary art and host relevant events and benefits. The gallery was founded by professional dancer and professor Kelly Trager and former actor, writer and producer Josiah Trager.
